GENERAL NOTES

APPLICATION & PRACTICE NOTES

- An application that fails to provide mandatory information (including payment), or provides incomplete or misleading information, will be treated as an incomplete application.
- An incomplete application will be treated as 'not received' for the purposes of the legal profession legislation, and will be returned to the applicant. It will then be up to the applicant to decide whether or not to proceed with the application.
- If the applicant wishes to proceed, the applicant will need to resubmit their application by completing the missing/incomplete information in their original application and redeclaring the same application. Until the requisite information is provided, the Law Society Council will not consider granting a practising certificate.
- If the applicant does not wish to proceed, the applicant may request to withdraw the application and refund the application fees.
- It is at the discretion of the Law Society Council whether to grant a practising certificate. Mere lodgement of an application form with the relevant fees does not entitle the applicant to commence practice.

- A practising certificate will not be granted unless professional indemnity insurance requirements are met. A law practice must have professional indemnity insurance cover before commencing to engage in legal practice. This insurance must be maintained at all times while engaged in legal practice.
- A practising certificate will be granted with the supervised legal practice condition unless the condition is inapplicable to the practitioner or an application for the removal of the condition has been granted.

MEMBERSHIP OF THE LAW SOCIETY

- Membership of the Law Society is optional. You will still need to pay the Practising Certificate Fee and Fidelity Fund Contribution (where applicable) in order to be granted a practising certificate.
- Payment of the Membership Fee will be regarded by the Society as an application to be a Solicitor Member of the Law Society. Your Membership will be administered in accordance with the Articles of Association of the Society. Please note that information you have previously provided to the Law Society will be utilised to effect and administer your membership of the Law Society.
