

New online Unfair Dismissal forms

The Commission is pleased to announce that the process of moving to online filing of documents has commenced. As the first stage in this process, the Unfair Dismissal Application (Form 7A) and Employer's Response to Unfair Dismissal Application (Form 7B) are now available to file online.

Parties and representatives will benefit from this innovation that will modernise our service and improve efficiency.

Parties will be able to:

- lodge Unfair Dismissal forms and supporting documents online
- make payments online; and
- receive sealed documents and notifications.

Get started

To file online, parties require an Online Registry account. Resources to assist organisations and other new users with the registration process are available.

To access the new online forms and support resources, see: File Online.

Alternative options for filing unfair dismissal forms

Parties can still file Unfair Dismissal forms with supporting documents at the Commission Registry, by post, and Unfair Dismissal Applications may also be filed at Local Courts. To download a form, see: Unfair Dismissal Forms
