

Jo McAlpine
Head of Talent and Capability
King & Wood Mallesons Australia

Jo McAlpine has worked in New Zealand, London and Australia, predominantly in professional services. As an HR Leader she takes a holistic approach to the people agenda drawing on skills and expertise in coaching, change management, psychology, learning and development and generalist HR. Jo leads with honesty and care and can lead and inspire business leaders and teams through her passion and energy for people and the business. Jo is at her best when developing, integrating and delivering an HR strategy involving cultural transformation initiatives and interventions aligned with the overall business strategy.